Presented by Leighton Oosthuisen

Animal Behaviorist Leighton Oosthuisen is nationally known as an authority on problem behavior in dogs. He has appeared on numerous TV programs, hosted radio program, lectured dog groups and clubs, taught seminars and consulted with law enforcement. His experience covers over 30 years and 25,000 dogs, from law enforcement to search & rescue to the pet industry.

Leighton's passion is rehabilitating dogs others have given up on, believing all dogs can be helped, given time and the right approach.

His training approach is leadership based, structural, positive and motivational. This approach has been made popular by the Monks of New Skete and Cesar Milan.

Leighton is an award winning author, and member of the Assoc. of Pet Dog Trainers and the American Boarding Kennel Association.
